(March 23, 2011 Stillwater, OK) – Registration for the 2011 American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine Forum is now open. The conference runs from June 15-18, 2011, and takes place in Denver, Colo. (http://www.ACVIMForum.org).
For the lowest registration fees, register before April 18, 2011. Registration is free for all current veterinary students and 2011 veterinary graduates.

This year, Dr. Michael Lorenz, dean and professor of the OSU Center for Veterinary Health Sciences, will be recognized for his many contributions to veterinary neurology as he receives Honorary Diplomate status in the American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine-Neurology. Lorenz is co-author of the Handbook of Veterinary Neurology, which is in its 5th edition and published in foreign languages.

The ACVIM Forum is about supplementing your program of study with new ideas, open discussion, and innovative science. Meet specialists and professors from all fields of veterinary internal medicine and scope out opportunities for internships and residencies. Step into your future and create a solid professional network you can rely on throughout your career.

The Oklahoma State University Center for Veterinary Health Sciences is one of 28 veterinary colleges in the United States and is fully accredited by the Council on Education of the American Veterinary Medical Association. The center's Boren Veterinary Medial Teaching Hospital is open to the public and provides routine and specialized care for small and large animals. It also offers 24 hour emergency care and is certified by the American Animal Hospital Association. For more information, visit www.cvhs.okstate.edu or call (405) 744-7000.
